FRANKLIN FAMILY PICNIC

The students will meet the staff in the SOFTBALL CHALLENGE at the Franklin Family Picnic, June 12.

It's summer! That means it's time for the 2nd Annual Franklin Family Picnic and Softball Challenge, June 12, 1:00 p.m. at High-Banks Metropolitan Park.

Last year the students spent extra time in the library studying and polishing their softball skills in a successful effort to "SMASH" Franklin's staff in the Great Softball Challenge. This, of course, was a huge blow to the staff ego (they say some people have never quite recovered) not to mention being outrageously embarrassing since the staff issued the softball challenge in the first place. However, the staff have not just hung their heads, they've been sheming all year.

This year the staff is back with sweet revenge on their minds. As conscientious students, are you going to let them get it? Of course not! Don't miss this opportunity for informal interaction with your favorite staff or faculty person. The staff has issued the challenge! Get out there and recruit other students to sign up to thwart this crazy effort! Sign up in the Frasch Hall Cafeteria or in 101 South Hall for this golden opportunity.

Don't forget though, the real reason we gather: food, fun, and friendship! The staff and Student Senate will supply the hamburger, hot dogs, buns, fire, and beverages. All you do is bring family, friends, your place settings, and a favorite dish. The chow down starts at 1:00. Sign up in the Frasch Hall Cafeteria or 101 South Hall to bring food.

We'll also have Volleyball, Tug-of-War, Frisbee Golf, and games to prove there is more than one way to beat those staffers. Picnic fever is here and we're going to have a great time. We hope you'll join us.

Graduation Honors

Many people were honored at Franklin University's 1983 Commencement Ceremonies. Among the student graduating the ROTC commissioned William Fowler, Jeffrey Fleer, April St. John, and Bret Oplinger as Army 2nd Lieutenants. Jeffrey Goodfleisch and Daniel Kimmet were commissioned Air Force 2nd Lieutenants. Debra Neubig was announced as recipient of the Sam Ringgold Award for student excellence. Her sister, Teresa, was last year's winner in the first year of the award. Franklin also graduated its first class of nursing students.

The students selected Joseph Frasch Jr. and Howard Whitney to receive the Outstanding Educators of the Year Awards. Honorary degrees were also conferred upon Russell Pace (Doctor of Humane Letters) and the keynote speaker, John Fisher (Doctor of Laws).

Franklin University's first ever intramural basketball championship ended a short, but active season. Although the season began slowly, first with three teams, then four, finally ending up with six teams, enough to hold a double elimination tournament. The tournament was scheduled for the last week in March, and was almost completed at that time. However, several members of teams had class conflicts, and elected to continue and expand the tournament through the following week. The season came bouncing to a close on April 5, when the Black Student Union team beat the Winners. So after six weeks of competition the season came to an end.

Thanks should be extended to Robert Pendergrass, a Franklin student, who graciously served as official for all games, including tournament games, (voluntarily), in addition to being the gym supervisor at the same time. He commented, before he resigned, that the season went well, and that he enjoyed participating in the program and although he tried to remain totally impartial, at times he found it difficult, as the season progressed.

In addition, the table tennis season was brief. Only five students completed the program, of the seventeen that originally signed up. However, those who played did enjoy participating, and would probably play again next year.

Price Replaces Sherrill

Jan Price, formerly an academic counselor for Franklin University, is providing personal counseling services and conducting at least one personal growth workshop this summer. She is taking on these responsibilities while Dr. Jeff Sherrill, University Counseling Psychologist, is on sabbatical leave from the University for the summer.

ROTC AWARDS CEREMONY

Major Richard Gorley presents Cadet Ron Skroupa the most coveted award in ROTC, the "Distinguished Military Graduate." After graduating from Franklin University, Ron will serve as an Army Military Intelligence Officer and attend Intelligence Officer Basic Course in Arizona.

The Franklin University ROTC Department held an annual Awards Ceremony in South Hall on March 24. One could not help but be impressed by the sight of 50 cadets in formation clad in crisp military attire. The purpose of the affair was to present awards to cadets who had distinguished themselves through outstanding scholastic endeavor, military achievement, and social contribution. Medals, certificates, and cash awards were furnished by a wide variety of civic organizations and associations. Our own Billy McCarthy shared the honor with Dr. McElhaney to present the American Legion Gold Medals to Ron Skroupa and William Fowler, and Silver Medals to April St. John and Eric Lesure. This year's ceremony is the largest in the short history of ROTC at Franklin with 44 individual awards presented. Major Gorley, Director of the ROTC program at Franklin, explained the program's growth with a one word answer "MONEY," in the form of scholarships, tax free tuition assistance, and starting salary of $22,200 with benefits.

Cadet Perry Williams taking the oath of confirmation administered by Major Gorley. This is the formal rite of passage to allow Cadet Williams to join the senior cadet payroll and be commissioned as an officer.

I have enjoyed organizing the intramural program, however, I feel that next year, more students should get involved so there are more activities and times that would interest the students. In addition, I think the students should take on the responsibility and help, so that one person is not totally responsible for officiating.

If you are intersted in playing softball, within Franklin, or tennis, golf or bowling this summer, please come to 101 South Hall and fill in the appropriate form, and we will begin to schedule games and matches.

Red's Night Fun

By LISA WATERS

On April 25, at 4:15 a charter bus left Franklin bound for Cincinnati, and the Reds. From Franklin only 8 people responded to the advertising posted for the Reds' College Nite, on that night. In addition, we opened the event to students from ODC. We had nineteen student from that school join us on the trip.

From one of our staff people, Dr. Jeff Sherrill, we got positive reports, although the bus left Columbus somewhat behind schedule, and part of the first inning was missed.

Hopefully, for the next excursion we can expect a greater turn out. Watch for details, from 101 South Hall.

Delta Sigma Theta

The Sorors of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., of Nu Phi Chapter will be bringing in the new '83-'84 school year with several public service and school activities. As a public service sorority we are always striving to attain our goals and to fulfill the community's needs.

During the Fall we will be accepting new candidates for membership into Delta Sigma Theta, so all interested young ladies watch out for our posters and other sorority literature.

Have a nice summer!

Blacktop Bash

By HOLLY JOHNSON

Good music, fun games, free brats and beer - all under the sunny skies of a spring Saturday afternoon on a Franklin University parking lot.

All of this and much more will be featured at the first Franklin University Blacktop BASH, a fun-filled day planned especially for Franklin's students, faculty, staff, alumni, friends and their families.

The Blacktop BASH will be held on June 4 from 2 to 6 p.m. in parking lot "D" next to Phillips Hall.

Here are just a few of the reasons why you and your family should attend the Blacktop BASH:

*The Majestics will perform music from the 50s as well as current popular tunes. Dancing will go on all day so wear your favorite shoes and bring a partner.

*Deibel's chefs will be serving their famous bratwursts and other munchies all afternoon. And, there will be plenty of beer and other soft drinks to keep you cool.

*Special activities for the children will include art workshops by Days of Creation, an arts program for kids. Preschoolers through 14 year olds will enjoy sketching, cartooning, paper sculpture and color pastel drawing that will begin each hour on the hour.

*A shuttle bus will be available to transport BASH participants to the Greater Columbus Arts Festival, which is also downtown. The best way to top off your afternoon at the Blacktop BASH is by taking the shuttle to the Festival to hear the Columbus Symphony Orchestra concert.

*Two teams, the Blivets (orange buttons) and the Blurbs (yellow buttons) will be competing in games for a special, surprise prize. Don't forget to register at the BASH booth when you arrive.

*The best reason to attend is that everything is FREE!

Parking will be available in A, B and C lots. Mark your calendar for June 4 and join all your Franklin University friends at the Blacktop BASH. For more information, contact Information Services at 224-6237, ext. 298 or 309.

Before working as an academic counselor, Price was a teacher and counselor for Columbus Public Schools. She is also a private counselor/consultant with OPTIONS Associates, working with adults who are in transition and dealing with career and life planning issues, stress management, job search strategies and decision-making processes. She has provided personal counseling to individuals in elementary and middle schools, university students and adults.

Price will be presenting a workshop on "Adult Transitions" on Saturday, June 4, 1983 from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon. The workshop will deal with such topics as general characteristics of adult developmental phases, an in-depth look at individual roles and relationships and how changes in one affects the other and the whole, defining the stages of each role/relationship cycle, and goal-setting/decision-making strategies based on all the generated information. Anyone who is experiencing any life change such as unemployment, career change, marriage, divorce, birth of child, children moving away from home, death of a key person, additional pressures due to school-related responsibilities or becoming aware of any new or developing needs in his/her life will find the workshop helpful.

Students may schedule a counseling appointment or register for the workshop with Christina Thorngate, Counseling Receptionist, in the Counseling Center on the first floor of Fresch Hall. If you are not able to attend on June 4, but would be interested in attending at another time, please let Christina know your available meeting times. The workshop is open to Franklin students, faculty, staff, and their families.

Price and her husband John have three children and live in Columbus.

Summer Softball

The Summer Softball Season is off to a fun start. Franklin University has a men's team and a women's team in the Columbus Recreation and Parks Department Softball Program.

The women's team is being co-managed by Beth Petruska and Di Wintermute, both employees at Franklin. The team's season opener was May 7 against Rockwell International. After a slow and less than encouraging first inning, the women came back to win by a wide margin of 20-8.

The women will be back on the diamond every Saturday at 6:10 or 7:10 p.m. on Diamonds 6 or 9 at Southview Park on Greenlawn Avenue.

The men's team is being managed by George Simeon, one of your Student Senators. The men's first game was up against Unos Pizzeria. Though the guys lost 39-5 they show much promise. It's only the beginning of the season so don't despair. With a little practice George can smooth out the rusty spots and the team will be on their way to stardom.

The men play every Sunday at 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. at Diamonds 6 and 9 at Southview Park on Greenlawn Avenue.

Softballers cheer on the team to another victory!

Schedules for both teams' games are available in 101 South Hall. Come alone or bring a group. Take someone out to the ballgame and support Raiders softball this summer! Below is also a listing of game schedules:

Transportation Symposium

By HOLLY JOHNSON

The motor transportation industry is at a pivotal stage in setting its future direction with the issues that surround deregulation, labor-management relations and demands for new strategies in rating, pricing and marketing. Special attention will be focused on this industry and its crucial issues as May 16 begins nationally-designated Transportation Week. Locally, Franklin University will host a symposium, entitled, "Motor Transportation Update: Present Status and Preview of Future Trends," featuring nine guest speakers who are closely associated with the industry.

The symposium will consist of five programs on Thursdays from 4 to 8 p.m.:

- May 26 - "Introduction by Marvin Rothaar, attorney and former director of transportation, Public Utilities Commission of Ohio; "Economics of the Motor Carrier Industry" by Nelson J. Cooney, general counsel for the American Trucking Association in Washington, D.C.
- June 2 - "Sales and Marketing" by Dick Hitchcock, vice president, distribution, Duff Truck Lines, Inc.; "Operations" by George Blubaugh, vice president, operations, Duff Truck Line, Inc.
- June 9 - "Tariffs and Rates" by Charlie Kelso, president, National Distribution Services, Inc., traffic consultant and tariff publishing representative; "Rating and Costing Strategies" by Russ Anderholt, manager of traffic and rates, Commercial-Lovelace Motor Freight, Inc.

- June 16 - "Labor Issues" by Jack Gordon, former president, Teamsters Local 413 and co-chairman of Franklin County Labor Leaders; "Management Issues" by Walter Brewster, managing director, Ohio Motor Carrier's Labor Relations Association.
- June 23 - "Safety, Claims and Insurance" by Marvin Rothaar; "Corporate Traffic" by Bob Hoffman, traffic manager, Western Electric Co., Inc. and president, Columbus Transportation Club.

Outstanding Alumnus

Cameron E. Williams, retired chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the Motorists Companies, has received the 1983 Outstanding Alumnus Award from Franklin University.

The Outstanding Alumnus Award, the highest honor bestowed by the Franklin University Alumni Association, was presented to Williams at the annual Alumni Day Banquet on May 7.

Williams, a member of the class of 1954, will continue to serve on the Board of Directors of Motorist Mutual Insurance as General Chairman and will also serve on the Board of Directors of Motorist Life Insurance Company.

Beginning his insurance career in 1940, Williams rose through the ranks of the Motorist Companies in positions such as agent, sales manager, executive assistant to the president, senior vice president, president and chairman of the board. He is a director for the National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies and Chairman Emeritus of the Ohio Insurance Institute.

Williams is a life member of the Franklin University Business Advisory Council and a trustee for the Griffith Foundation for Insurance Education at Ohio State University. In addition to Franklin University, he also attended Bowling Green State University and Purdue University.
