

LEARNING COMMONS | Library • Tutoring • Testing

FUSE

Franklin University Scholarly Exchange

DSA Conference, June 26, 2021

Karen Caputo, Instruction & Design Librarian

What is FUSE?

- An Institutional Repository Committed to Open Access
 - Institutional Repository (IR): digital library containing the intellectual output of the University
 - Open Access (OA): freely providing online access
- Contributors: faculty, staff, students, & others affiliated with the University

FRANKLIN UNIVERSITY FUSE | Franklin University Scholarly Exchange

HOME ABOUT FAQ MY ACCOUNT

BROWSE
Collections
Disciplines
Authors

SEARCH
Enter search terms:
 Search
in this repository

Advanced Search
Notify me via email or RSS

AUTHOR CORNER
Author FAQ
Submit Research

LINKS
Franklin University Library
FUSE Administration & Policies
Office of Academic Scholarship

Browse Research and Scholarship Follow

- Research unit, center, or department
- Faculty and Staff Scholarship
- Doctoral Student Dissertations

The Franklin University Scholarly Exchange (FUSE) is an open access, digital collection of scholarship, research, and creative works produced by faculty, students, staff, and others affiliated with Franklin University. FUSE is a service of the Franklin University Library. Research and scholarly output included here has been selected and deposited by the individual university departments and centers on campus.

At a Glance
Top 10 Downloads
All time

Paper of the Day
Refugees on the Move: Resettlement and Onward Migration in Final Destination Countries

FUSE Mission:

FUSE collects the varied and diverse scholarly, creative, and research-related output of the University in one digital space. FUSE collections enable the University to:

- promote University projects and scholarship,
- exchange ideas produced by University scholars, and
- provide the University community opportunities to showcase their work.

This collection fuels both teaching and learning by freely and openly disseminating works produced by University faculty, staff, students, academic/administrative units, and other members of the University community.

What's in FUSE? Our Collections:

Faculty and Staff
Scholarship

Commencement Ceremonies:
Historic Photograph Collection

Scholars
Showcase
2018 &
2016

NEW: DSA
Conference
2021

Doctoral Student Dissertations

Writers
Showcase
Series

International Institute for Innovative Instruction
Blog

FUSE Fast Facts:

- Launched last June
- Over 400 works
- 2,400+ downloads and 1,600+ page hits
- Readers from 95 countries across 6 continents
- Cited 220+ times

Reach of FUSE

- Digital Commons Tools
 - Enhanced SEO
- Repository Registries
 - Open Archives Initiative
 - Registry of Open Access Repositories (ROAR)
 - OAlster (WorldCat)
- Digital Commons Network

Graduation Group Photograph, 1924

<https://fuse.franklin.edu/commencement/1/>

Opportunities:

eJournals

Conferences

Events

Open
Educational Resources
(OERs)

Archives &
Special Collections

Open Access Resources

- Directory of Open Access Journals \(DOAJ\)
- CORE
- La Referencia
- African Journals Online \(AJOL\)
- Digital Commons Network

Questions?

Contact:

Karen Caputo

fuse@franklin.edu